"Danell is an excellent speaker, and would bring to your event a motivational story of breaking a world record that many would think was impossible. Yet, Danell shows that If you put your mind to it, you can do anything. Her story inspires us to do the thing that we think we can't.

Her story is a truly unique one, and you will leave feeling like you can achieve anything you set your heart on. It's all encompassing, not just the ride on the motorcycle, but the ride of life that we are all on."
